

Humera Khan college of Education, Jogeshwari (W)

Report on Online Quiz Competition

Course: IC 1 Gender, School and Society (Unit 5 & 6)

Date: 7th December 2024

Course In charge: Dr. Sandhya Sarwade

Time: 2:30pm to 3:30 pm

Event: Online Quiz competition (Quiz.com)

Link: <https://quizizz.com/join?gc=951013&authuser=0>

Participants: F. Y. B.Ed. (Batch 2024-26)

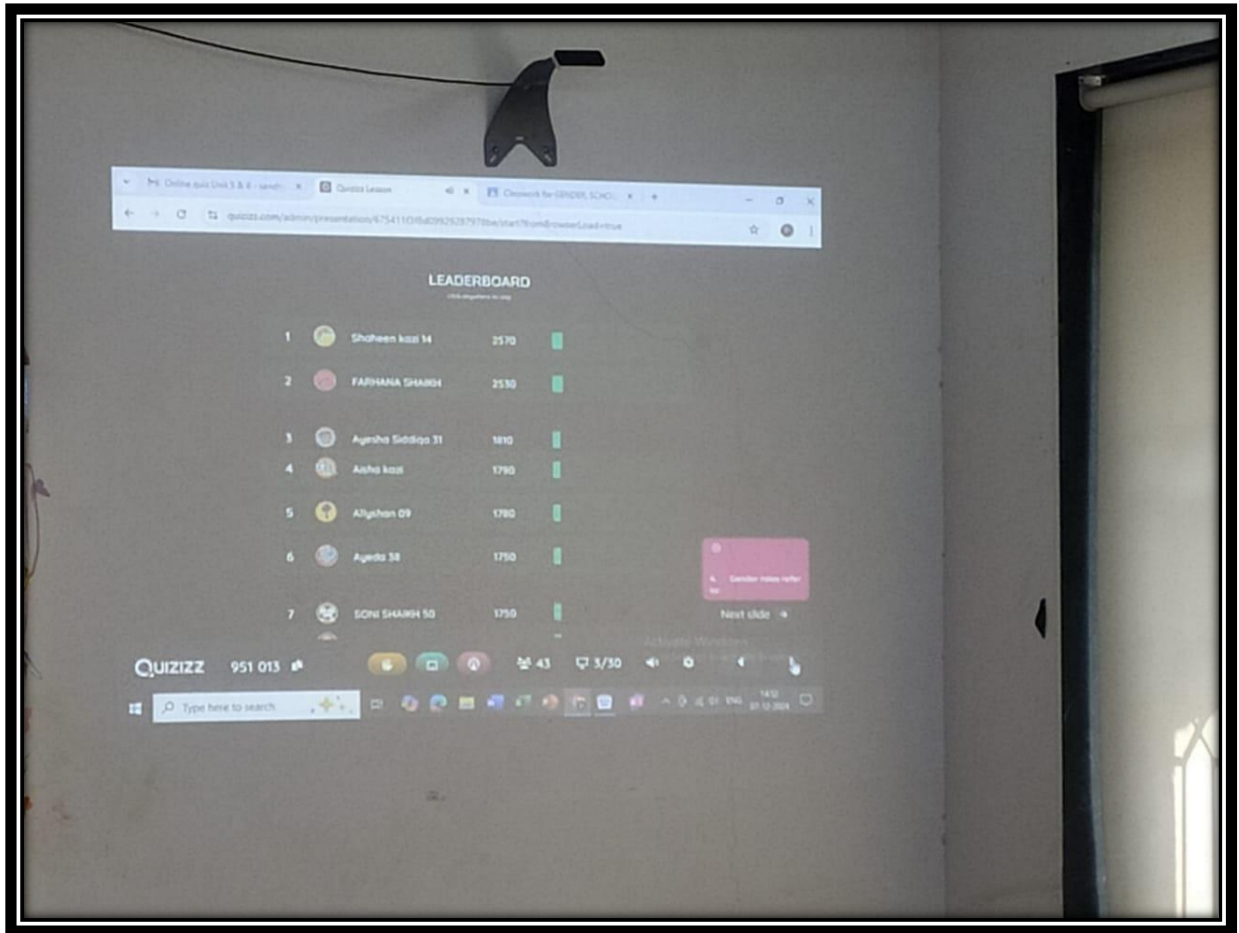

Report:

Humera Khan College of Education conducted a quiz competition for F.Y. B.Ed Students (Batch 2024-26) on Course IC 1 Gender, School and Society, Unit 5 and 6 on 7th December 2024. The quiz was uniquely designed by Dr. Sandhya Sarwade with a live, time-bound format where students had to click on the correct answers within a limited timeframe. This setup included a dynamic leaderboard that displayed scores immediately after each round, keeping the excitement and engagement levels high throughout the competition.

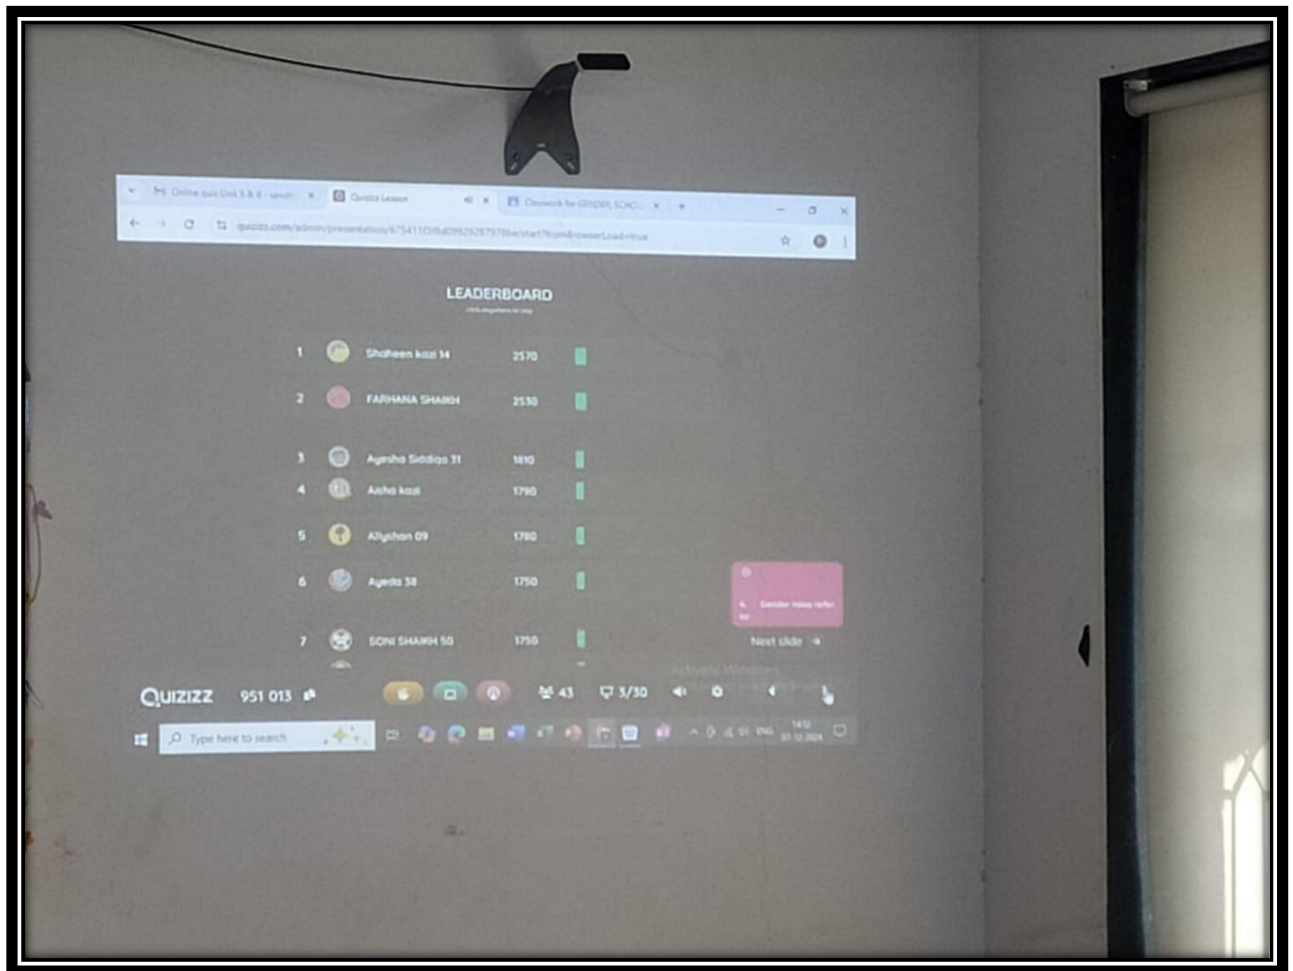

The quiz proved to be both informative and stimulating, capturing the interest of all participants. The structure encouraged quick thinking and active participation, making it a fun yet educational experience.

Learning Outcome:

The quiz enhanced students' understanding of the subject matter by reinforcing key concepts in a practical way. The timed format improved their ability to manage time effectively and make decisions under pressure. The instant feedback and leaderboard helped students self-assess their performance, identifying their strengths and areas needing improvement. Additionally, the interactive and competitive nature of the quiz fostered enthusiasm, engagement, and collaboration among students, making learning both dynamic and enjoyable. Overall, the event successfully created an environment that promoted knowledge retention, quick thinking, and healthy competition.

Learning is more effective when it is an active rather than a passive process.

Kurt Lewin

www.TheSilverPen.com